

prefer

1. I like apples but I like watermelons more.

- a) I prefer apples to watermelons.
- b) I prefer watermelons to apples.
- c) I prefer apples.

6. She likes eating and doesn't like cooking.

- a) She prefers eating than cooking.
- b) She prefers eat to cook.
- c) She prefers eating to cooking.

2. She likes running in the morning more than running in the evening.

- a) She prefers running in the evening to running in the morning.
- b) She prefers running in the morning to running in the afternoon.
- c) She prefers running in the morning to running in the evening.

7. I like cooking omelet. But I like cooking sandwiches more.

- a) I prefer cooking omelet than cooking sandwiches.
- b) I prefer cooking omelet to cooking sandwiches.
- c) I prefer cooking sandwiches to cooking omelet.

3. I don't like ice cream. I really like chocolate cake.

- a) I prefer strawberry cake to ice cream.
- b) I prefer chocolate cake to ice cream.
- c) I prefer ice cream to chocolate cake.

8. They like to have picnics in the park, but they like the lake more.

- a) They prefer the park than the lake.
- b) They prefer the lake to the park.
- c) They prefer the park to the lake.

4. Kate doesn't like "Harry Potter". She likes "The Chronicles of Narnia".

- a) Kate prefers "Harry Potter" than "The Chronicles of Narnia".
- b) Kate prefers "Harry Potter" to "The Chronicles of Narnia".
- c) Kate prefers "The Chronicles of Narnia" to "Harry Potter".

9. They like travelling in the USA but they like travelling in Canada more.

- a) They prefer travelling in the USA to travelling in Canada.
- b) They prefer travelling in the USA that travelling in Canada.
- c) They prefer travelling in Canada to travelling in the USA.

5. He likes swimming but doesn't like running.

- a) He prefers running than swimming.
- b) He prefers swimming than running.
- c) He prefers swimming to running.

10. I like fish sandwiches but I like ham sandwiches more.

- a) I prefer ham sandwiches to fish sandwiches.
- b) I prefer ham sandwiches than fish sandwiches
- c) I prefer fish sandwiches to ham sandwiches.