

BODY SYSTEMS

NATURAL SCIENCE

UNIT 1: HOW ARE WE MADE?

YEAR 4

Diagram of the human skeleton and muscles. Arrows point to the skull, spine, and leg bones. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the human brain and nervous system. Arrows point to the brain, spinal cord, and nerves. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the human digestive system. Arrows point to the mouth, esophagus, stomach, and intestines. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the human urinary system. Arrows point to the kidneys, ureters, and bladder. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the human circulatory system. Arrows point to the heart, arteries, and veins. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the human respiratory system. Arrows point to the trachea, bronchi, and lungs. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the male reproductive system. Arrows point to the testes, vas deferens, and urethra. A label 'system' is at the bottom.

Diagram of the female reproductive system. Arrows point to the ovaries, fallopian tubes, and uterus. A label 'system' is at the bottom.