To talk about fixed events. (timetables, schedules) * The train leaves at 5:55. *The new zoo opens on Friday. * The match starts at 3 pm.	To talk about things we have arranged in the past to do in the future. (arrangements) For example: My father had a job interview, the enterprise called him and asked him to start work next week. We can now say: * He's starting a new job next week. Example 2: We have invited Tom and Johana to come for dinner on Sunday. They accepted. We can now say: Tom and Johana are coming on Sunday.	To talk about things we have decided to do in the future. (plans or intentions)  Paul is not going to study music at university. * I'm going to see a film tonight. * We are not going to buy a car this year. They are very expensive. I am going to go to the movies tonight.	When we make a decision to do something. (Decisions taken at the moment of speaking) For example, when the telephone rings, we say: * I'll answer. A: I have a party on Sunday. You are all invited. B: I'll go to your party. C: Sorry, I won't go. I have things to do.
