Choose the correct word(s) between brackets:

We (already – just – still - yet) haven't been to Alexandria.

I've (since – just - still - yet) come back from Port Said.

Have you (already - just - still - yet) Seen this film five times?

I have (yet – Just – still - since) finished my work.

I haven't had a really good ice-cream (already - just – still -yet).

Have you (already - just – still - for) not been to Alexandria?

Nada has been in Port Said (for - since – ago - from) three months

He has studied English (for - since – ago - from) he was seven years

His mother has been there with him (for -since – ago - from) two weeks.

He hasn't had any fish and chips (for – since - when - from) he arrived.

He hasn't had a good cup of coffee (for – when - since - from) he left Italy.

He hasn't seen his friends(for - when – since - from) such a long time.

We haven't eaten (for - yet - since - still) yesterday.

You (already – yet – since - still) haven't told me who you went out with last night.

I have played the trumpet(when - just – since - for) I was eight

Fill in for or since into the gaps.

I haven't seen my brother ..... three days.

He has stopped eating junk food ..... May.

She hasn't met him ..... my party

They haven't gone to the cinema ..... a long time.

We have talked on Skype ..... hours.

The girls haven't eaten anything ..... breakfast.

LIVEWORKSHEETS