

HUMAN NERVOUS SYSTEM

Fill in the missing words.

1. The nervous system consists of two main parts:

Consists of the brain and spinal cord 	Made up of all the nerves outside the CNS

2. THE PERIPHERAL NERVOUS SYSTEM: The peripheral nervous system is divided into two types of neurons.

_____ neurons	_____ neurons
carry information from body to the central nervous system.	carry information the central nervous system to the muscles or organs.

7. The peripheral nervous system can be either:

- a. _____ nervous system: where you have conscious control over your responses to stimuli, like _____.

- b. _____ nervous system involves involuntary activity like _____. This can be further divided into the _____ nervous system, (which becomes active when you are threatened and prepares the body for action) and the _____ nervous system, which controls day to day ordinary bodily functions.