THE GOLDEN BIRD

The king was very happy having the bird and met the princess who actually his lost daughter. The king asked the gardener's son to marry the princess. After the king's death, he was heir to his kingdom. The son met the fox in the forest. But the fox asked him to kill it. Amazingly, the fox was changed into a prince that was the princess's brother. After a long struggle, they lived in the kingdom happily.

The feather was brought to the king. The king wanted the bird for himself. The son went to find the bird. On the way, he met a fox with hurt leg. He helped the fox to cure it. The fox thanked him and repaid his kindness by helping him finding the golden bird. It asked him to sit on its tail and run very quickly and stopped near a castle.

Long time ago, there was a king who had a golden apple tree. His apple was gone every night. He was furious. He ordered the gardener to catch the picker. The gardener asked his son to do that. He, then, watched the tree and saw a golden bird picked one of the apples. He shot an arrow at it. It dropped its golden feather and flew away.

He asked him to go inside. The fox advised him to bring the golden bird in its shabby cage. But he forgot it. He put the bird in a golden cage. It made him being caught by the soldiers. They would kill him unless he could bring a princess, and would give the golden bird for himself. By the help of the fox, he could get the princess soon. And silently, he took her and the bird back to his country.
