

Listen to the audio as many times as you need to, and then fill in the blanks.

Eucharia, Ireland

My first part-time job was _____ in a restaurant. It wasn't a very _____ job, but I really _____ it because I wanted to _____ for horse-_____ lessons, so every Saturday _____ I went to this restaurant and _____ for maybe five hours every night. It was hard _____ labor, but it _____ me the _____ of money.

Tres, United States

My first part-time job: I was _____ in a small _____, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and I worked for the Harmon _____, and they _____ a hands-on, _____ and math museum for children, so every day I would _____ a laser light _____, and once I was _____ with that I would give museum _____ and _____ the science and math _____ to each _____, to _____ and children. It was a lot of fun _____ kids open their _____ to _____ and science and wanted to _____ more and asking _____ that I couldn't _____. I really, really _____ that, and so I _____ that some of those kids that did _____ in, to the museum, I hope they did _____ a _____ in science.

Jeannie, United States

My first part-time job was as a _____ at a _____. I really _____ it, cause I had to _____ on my _____ for basically eight hours a day _____ with a lot of people who don't _____ the job that we do, so I had a lot of people _____ at me for different _____ and always _____ the _____. It's not a job I would _____ to.

Alan, Canada

My first part-time job was _____ at McDonald's. When I was fifteen, I had a job at McDonald's _____ burgers, doing _____, cooking, not taking _____. I enjoyed it for awhile, about two or three months, but then I started _____ in it, and after six months, I _____ the job, but it was a _____ job for a fifteen _____ old.

Kate, New Zealand

My first part-time job was at a _____, and this is in New Zealand and about, I was in _____ school then, so about two times a week, in the _____ and Fridays after school, and _____ all day, I would go to the bakery and _____ the bread to the _____ and then the best _____ about the part-time job was that at the _____ of the day, all the _____ bread, we could _____ home to our _____, which made my brother very very _____.

Mark, United States

My first part-time job was at a _____ Chuck E Cheese. It's a _____ restaurant in America that is for little _____ and sometimes I was a _____ but sometimes I got to _____ as Chucky. Chucky is a big _____. He's the _____ for Chuck E Cheese, and so I was, I would dress up in a big mouse _____ and go around _____ little kids.