

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

Troy's strongest warrior, Hector, was killed by Achilles.

In the night, Greek soldiers hiding inside the horse got out and let the Greek army inside Troy's walls to destroy the city.

King Memnon and his army from Aethiopia arrived to support Troy but Memnon got killed by Achilles.

King Menelaus was angry to find out what Paris had done. Many Greek kings supported him and gathered armies ready to attack Troy.

The Greeks pretended to surrender, leaving a gift of a giant horse for the Trojans. The Trojans brought it inside the city walls.

Aphrodite helped Paris to make Helen fall in love with him and they went to live in Troy together.

Penthesilea and her Amazon army arrived to support Troy but Penthesilea got killed by Achilles.

After Memnon's death, the Trojans retreated inside the city walls. Paris fired an arrow which hit Achilles on his heel and he died.