WHAT IS HALLOWEEN?

Halloween is a traditional celebration on 31st October. The Celts believed that the dead came back, so they lighted bonfires to keep them away. In the 19th century immigrants took this tradition to North America.

Nowadays children, dressed in scary costumes, go from house to house asking for candy with the question "trick or treat?", if they don't receive candy they will make a trick or a spell.

People also go to costume parties, visit haunted houses, watch horror movies with friends or tell horror stories.

On Halloween they decorate houses with jack-o'-lanterns: pumpkins with faces and a candle inside that looks scary.
