The night sky

Read the text below, choose the correct answer (A, B, C, D)

The night sky can be incredible. The most obvious thing is the moon which, when full, can be very (1) _____ and light up the sky. If we're lucky, we can also see planets such as Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter, although it (2) _____ on the time of year of course.

Another amazing (3) _____ is the stars. These can be (4) _____ to see if we're in the middle of a town or city. However, away from city lights, we might see hundreds or even thousands of them.

If we have a (5) _____ enough telescope, we can get a really close look at them, too. It's (6) _____ to think that the stars we see on Earth have actually died. I don't really understand the science, but apparently, because of the speed of light, we're actually looking into the past. I think that's pretty awesome.
