

For each sentence, write the action verb in the first box and the direct object in the second box. The direct object may be compound.

They visited many ports in South America.

Drake's great voyage benefited England.

The British people greeted the weary sailors.

The Queen knighted Sir Francis Drake.

She praised him and the entire crew.