Read the story, see how many er word you can find in the story.

There is nothing better, than winter weather.

The days are colder, but the fun is not over!

I will write Grandmother a letter on a piece of paper to ask her to knit me a sweater.

After supper me and my bigger brother have hot chocolate and turn on the heater.

My Father say we mustn't sit so close the heater; we will get sick. So, I wonder does the heater have some germs or is it just the weather.

My clever sister say it is just the cold weather and the hot heater that make us sick.

So just remember not to sit to close to the heater when it is cold weather.

If you don't know what to do this winter, just be clever, and ask a farmer for some herbs to make soup out of water and herbs to eat together later with mother and father.

I wish this winter weather could last forever and ever but soon it will be summer and the weather will be much warmer.
