

Ecosystems on Earth

- Earth itself is an ecosystem, where people and animals interact. There are 2 types of ecosystems. Let's learn together about them

Terrestrial ecosystems

- They are commonly found on land

- They are the home of forest animals, grassland animals, desert animals, plants and people

- Some examples of this ecosystem are

- Forest ecosystem
- Deserts ecosystem
- Grassland ecosystem

Aquatic ecosystems

- They are present in a body of water

- They are the home of freshwater animals and ocean animals

- Some examples of aquatic ecosystem are:

- Oceans
- Lakes
- Rivers.

Terrestrial Ecosystems

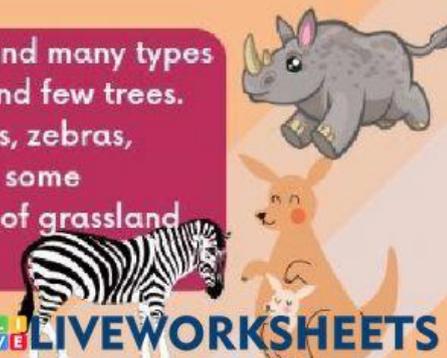

- Trees
- Plants
- Monkeys, pandas, and bears are some examples of forest animals

- Here we can find cactuses
- Camels, foxes, snakes and scorpions are some examples of desert animals

- We can find many types of grass and few trees.
- Kangaroos, zebras, rhinos are some examples of grassland animals

Aquatic Ecosystems

- Includes freshwater habitats like rivers, lakes and wetlands.
- Capybaras, frogs, and ducks are some examples of freshwater animals

- It is the home of sea animals
- Sharks, whales, corals and turtles are some examples of sea animals

