Grammar training

Conditionals

Antonio and Ellie are having a break at work.

Complete their conversation.

Antonio: I feel old and useless.

Ellie: You're OK. Don't worry so much.

Antonio: If I _____ a different job, I might be happier.

Ellie: You always talk like this if you _____ tired.

Antonio: Yes, but if I had applied for other jobs, I _____ something more interesting. I wouldn't be so tired.

Ellie: If I _____ you, I'd take a holiday.

Antonio: I wish I _____ enough money.

Ellie: If you saved up, you _____ able to have holidays. We've had this conversation before, haven't we?

Antonio: Yes, I know. But if I _____ to you, I won't find an answer.

Ellie: I wish I _____ help you more.

Antonio: But I would have stopped work completely if I _____ you, Ellie!

Ellie: If people _____ to each other, they lose hope. That's my opinion. What makes you happy, anyway?

Antonio: I wish I _____ . The only thing I know is that I _____ if I'm happy. Does that help?

Ellie: Perhaps. Where do you sing?

Antonio: In the shower mostly.

Ellie: Perhaps you _____ happier if you got a job in music?

Antonio: Maybe. But I have to get back to work. If I _____ to you, Elle, I wouldn't have felt much better.