5 Ways to Become Rich

"Money makes the world go round," is a well-known idiom in English. It means that (1) _____you want to buy a house, or travel round the world or study at a good college or university, you will need money and probably (2) _____ of it. So, how can you get more money, how can you become rich? Many people will give you lots of different advice. Below are five things you can do to make your bank (3) _____grow.

1. Save your money. Don't always spend the money you earn (4) _____ things you don't really need. If you spend three dollars on a cup of coffee every day (5) _____ work, that's $15 per week, or about $60 a month. Over a year, that will (6) _____ you about $720, and over twenty years, that will add up to $14,000.

2. (7) _____ your friends carefully. Make friends who are rich or want to become rich like you do. When you do this, you will learn more about how to (8) _____ money. Warren Buffett, one of the richest people in the world, gives this advice: "It's better to hang out with people better than you."

3. (9) _____out what you love to do and then focus your time and energy on that. Steve Jobs, creator of Apple Computer, (10) _____talked about focus. You need to be so excited about what you do that it makes you get up early in the morning (11) _____other people are still sleeping.

4. Don't work. Robert Kiyosaki, the famous author of 'Rich Dad Poor Dad', says that perhaps you should try to start your own (12) _____ business instead of working for someone else. Does that mean you should be the boss? No, he says, (13) _____ a boss takes too much time and hard work. Pay someone to be the company boss for you. Very simply, you should first (14) _____ a business and then make your money do all the work.

5. Start young and keep learning (15) _____your money mistakes. You are human and over time you will make many of them. But it's easier to lose ten thousand dollars when you are twenty-five than when you are sixty-five.
