Look at this dialogue between a journalist and Nick Bourne. Complete the missing gaps with Past Simple or Past Continuous.

Journalist: Hi Nick. Congratulations on your run across Africa! You must have felt relieved when you finally (1) _____ (see) the Pyramids in Egypt?
Nick: Well, as you know it wasn't my plan to finish in Egypt, but when the Pyramids suddenly came into view, as I (2) _____ (cross) the finishing line, I was so happy that it was over.
Journalist: It was obviously a tough trip – what was the biggest problem you (3) _____ (have) while you (4) _____(run) across the desert?
Nick: Well probably the most frightening was when I (5) _____ (lie) in a make-shift hospital bed in Zambia with malaria. The doctors (6)_____ (not want) me to continue with the run because I was so ill.
Journalist: And what (7) _____ (enjoy) the most about your trip?
Nick: There are so many things but I really loved the scenery.
