I'm going to describe the relationship me and my oldest brother.

Even though he's many years older than me we have always managed to have a close bond. As is the oldest he has always taken care of me and my other brother like a father so he is very protective over us. Now that he lives with his new family he always invites me to spend the day with his childrens and treats me as one of them. For example he spoils me, plays a lot with me and would do anything to make me laugh.

But in my family not everyone gets along with their siblings. My dad has a really bad relationship with his siblings. My father has four sisters and three brothers so it's not simple to make everyone like each other. In particular my dad with is older brother, they hate each other, and when the family organizes some events we have to keep them distant, so they don't argue. I think that when they were younger they could love each other, but now they can only fight and scream to each other faces.
