

L198 They can't go to Herbert's Party.

They Can't Go to Herbert's Party

Herbert is depressed. He's having a party today, but his friends can't go to his party. They're all busy.

- A. Can you go to Herbert's party?
- B. No, I can't. I have to work.

- A. Can Michael go to Herbert's party?
- B. No, he can't. He has to go to the doctor.

1. you and Tom?
fix our car

2. Susan?
go to the dentist

3. your children?
do their homework

4. John?
wash his clothes

5. your parents?
clean their apartment

6. Can YOU go to Herbert's party?

How to Say It!

Apologizing

- A. Can you go to a movie with me on Saturday?
B. I'm sorry. I can't. I have to clean my apartment.

Practice the interactions on this page, using "I'm sorry" to apologize.

Practice conversations with other students. Practice inviting, apologizing, and giving reasons.

go to a soccer game

have lunch

have dinner

go swimming

go shopping

go dancing

go skating

go skiing

go bowling

A:Do you have to leave now?

B:Yes, I have to because I have a plane at 5:30.

A:Do you have to stay at work today?

B:/send an e-mail/

A:Do you have to go to the supermaket?

B:/buy some groceries/

A:Do you have to go to work today?

B:/it's Monday/

A:Do you have to fix your car?

B:/It's broken/

A:Does your son have to go to school today?

B:Yes, he has to because he has to take a test.

A:Does your wife have to stay at home today?

B:/take care for our son/

A:Does she have to stay in bed?

B/she is sick/

A: Does she have to cook dinner?

B:/we are all hungry/

What do you have to do today?