

Unit 3. Meals

I. Listen to the radio programme and make the sentences true or false.

1. The Japanese eating habits changed much.
2. A typical Japanese dinner consists of hamburgers, curry and rice.
3. The Japanese eat sushi every day.
4. Japanese children prefer western food.
5. Japanese people always eat with chopsticks.

II. Listen to the radio programme again and complete the sentences using the information you have learned.

1. For breakfast many Japanese people eat _____.
2. It is a fact that many Japanese feel like eating _____.
3. Sushi, raw fish is _____.
4. In the eyes of foreigners, sushi and tempura may be _____.
5. Many young people are not able to hold chopsticks properly because _____.

III. Match the columns.

1. bread	A. a tin of
2. jam	B. a piece of
3. Coke	C. a loaf of
4. meat	D. a can of
5. sardines	E. a jar of

1. 2. 3. 4. 5.

IV. Read the recipe. Fill in the gaps with the following words: bake, cut, peel, pour, put, serve, sprinkle. One word is extra.

(1) _____ the bananas and (2) _____ them in half. (3) _____ yoghurt and cereal in separate shallow bowls. Insert the pop sticks through the cut side of the bananas. (4) _____ the bananas in yoghurt. (5) _____ the bananas in cereal. Put the bananas on a baking sheet. Freeze for about 1 hour. (6) _____ cold.

III. Fill in the article where necessary

1. They met for _____ dinner.
2. _____ dinner was different from the one of the evening before.
3. You can get _____ good breakfast here.
4. John came to _____ lunch at the appointed time.
5. He was greedily eating _____ breakfast his mother had given to him.

IV. Complete with the correct pronoun.

1. I always make my breakfast _____.
2. They don't need your help. They can do it _____.
3. She cut _____ when she was making salad.
4. Rick, don't burn _____ when you use an oven.
5. He likes to bake bread _____.
6. We can cook an excellent dinner _____.

IV. Ask your friend 8 questions about his favourite meal.
