Reading: Don't regret regrets

1 A Unfortunately, she regretted getting it as soon as she left the tattoo shop. Until then, she had been proud of leading a life without regrets. She had gone through life working on the principle that you should always look forward and never look back. But that night, she remembers feeling regret for the very first time.

2. ____ The first one was denial and she spent the first few hours saying to herself, "Make it go away!" The second was a feeling of bewilderment in which she kept on asking herself, "How could I have done that?" The third was a desire to punish herself, something along the lines of "I could kick myself." The fourth is something that psychologists call perseveration. This is the habit of focussing obsessively and repeatedly on the exact same thing. A person who is feeling regret has the first three components going around in their head again and again.

3. ____ not only the physical pain of her tattooed wrist, but the emotional pain of knowing that she had done something incredibly stupid.

4. ____ The first is to take comfort in the fact that she is not alone. Figures show that around 17 % of Americans regret getting tattoos at some point in their lives. The second is to learn to laugh at herself. Humor and black humor play a fundamental role in helping us come to terms with our regret. Apart from that, Ms. Schulz recognizes the value of sitting back and waiting for the pain of regret to go away. Time heals all wounds as the saying goes, and in the case of regret, this is most certainly true.

5. ____ Most people who see it are disappointed, because they don't think it is that bad; the problem is that she doesn't like it. She got the tattoo when she was traveling and she was worried that she would forget some of the lessons that she had learned during that time. It is a lesson that she wants to share with other people. For her the compass represented the two ideas in one image.

6. ____ It reminds her how important it is to keep on exploring, and simultaneously how important it is to know where you're heading in life. Ms. Schulz believes that if we have goals and dreams and if we love people, we should feel pain when things go wrong. In her view, we need to learn to love the flawed things that we create and to be able to forgive ourselves for creating them. Ms. Schulz says that her experience has taught her that regret doesn't exist to remind us that we did badly; instead it is there to remind us that we know that we can do better.
