A nasty experience

My grandmother didn't notice anything at first, but when she went to bed that evening she found that her jewelry wasn't in the usual place. And then she remembered the girls and called the police. They were very sympathetic, but I don't think they'll ever catch the girls.

My grandmother had a terrible experience last weekend. She's 82 years old, and she lives by herself. I've always told her to be careful when she's answering the door because you never know who's outside.

"What are you doing up there?" she shouted, and the girl said, "Can I use your bathroom, please?" My grandmother said yes and didn't worry about it, although the girl was upstairs for ages. She gave the girl in the kitchen a glass of water. Then the second girl came downstairs, and they left.

- My grandmother thought they looked like nice girls, so she invited them in. They looked around the living room, and then one of them said, "Can I have a glass of water, please?" so my grandmother took her into the kitchen. While they were in the kitchen, she heard the other one run upstairs.
- Anyway, she was at home last Sunday. At about 4:00 in the afternoon, she heard someone knock at the front door. She opened the door, and there were two girls outside, about 10 or 11 years old. "Hello," said one of the girls. "Our parents are going to buy a house like yours, in this area. Can we take a look at your house, please? We want to see what it's like."
