2 _____

No, my school report cards used to say "friendly and well-behaved." I don't think I was rebellious. In fact, I used to be fairly shy. I became more of a rebel in high school. I stayed in school until I was 18, but I was really lazy and uninterested, and I didn't use to do very much work.

3 _____

I used to love English and art, but I wasn't very good at math. In English class we used to read plays, and I sat at the back of the class thinking, "Why can't you all act a little better?" It was the first time I thought about being an actor.

4 _____

I used to love Miss O'Toole, one of my elementary school teachers. I loved her because in school, even if we were doing math with her, which I didn't like, she used to let me draw, and she never got angry.

In high school I liked my biology teacher, Mr. Scott, and my geography teacher, Mr. Brunei, because they were nice people, although I wasn't very good at their subjects.

5 _____

As a little girl, I wanted to be a movie star, and I used to make my dad act out scenes with me. I also wanted to be a makeup artist.

6 _____

Try to do the thing you love most – even if you think it's silly. I've learned most through working and acting, because it teaches me about life. To earn money by doing something you love can only make you a happier person.
