

LAST WEEKEND

Last weekend, I went to the coast with my parents. On Saturday morning, we went to the beach and we collected shells. I collected a beautiful pink one for my friend Mary.

Later, at lunchtime, we didn't go to a café for lunch. We ate our lunch on the beach. We had an omelette and some sandwiches.

After that, in the afternoon, we visited the aquarium. We met an interesting scientist and she talked to us about dolphins and fish. We also saw a frightening shark in the aquarium. My brother said it wasn't real. He said it was made of plastic. Then, we saw it swim through the water. My brother was frightened. It was very funny.

On Sunday morning, we visited our uncle and aunt. They live near the coast.

First, we went to their house. They didn't know anything about that, so, they were very surprised and excited.

Later, we went to have lunch to a restaurant. It was very nice and comfortable. We eat fish and chips. We talked a lot about our lives.

Next, we visited an amusement park. It was quite far away from the restaurant, so my uncle took us by car.

Finally, we returned home. It was eight o'clock in the evening, so it was quite late. I really enjoyed last weekend! It was an amazing trip I will never forget it!

A) Answer the questions about the text:

- 1.-When did they have lunch on the beach?
- 2.-Where did they go on Saturday afternoon?
- 3.-Who did they meet at the aquarium?
- 4.-Who did they visit on Sunday?
- 5.-Where did they have lunch on Sunday?
- 6.-Did they go to an amusement park?
- 7.-What time did they decide to return home?

B) Look all the words that are in red. They tell you in which order they did things over the weekend.

Now, you are going to write in the past tense something you did last weekend, last summer or last year. It may be invented, of course.

Use:

First,

after that,

later,

next,

Finally...
