

A stylized illustration of a traditional Japanese pagoda (stupa) with three tiers. Each tier has a dark blue, curved roof with a yellow and red border. The structure is supported by red pillars and has red railings. The background is a light beige color with a small green leaf-like shape in the top right corner.

