- 3 Complete the examples in the Language point, using the words in bold in 2.

LANGUAGE POINT

We use a/an

- to talk about singular countable nouns in a general way (the person or thing could be one of many): an airport bus, a badge, ¹ _____

We use the

- to talk about specific nouns (it's clear to the listener which person or thing): the registration desk, ² _____
- to refer back to the same noun for a second time: ³ _____
- with superlatives: the best, ⁴ _____

We use no article

- with plural nouns and uncountable nouns in a general way: hotels, ⁵ _____, coffee, ⁶ _____
- with proper nouns (names, countries, continents, cities, languages, etc.): New York, ⁷ _____
- with transportation: by taxi, ⁸ _____

» For more information, go to Grammar reference on page 117.

- 4 Work with a partner. Think of two more nouns to add to each category in 3. Try to choose nouns that are important for your work.

Tip | the + country

Some countries need the before their name because they are groups of:

- countries (e.g. the United Kingdom)
- states (e.g. the United States)
- islands (e.g. the Philippines)

Read the extract below and underline all the nouns. Which nouns are preceded by indefinite articles a/an, the definite article the or no article at all?

Does fear really motivate? In sport, says Scott Snook, a teacher in organisational behaviour at Harvard Business School, (one of the most famous business schools in the world) 'fear can become a barrier to taking risks, yet can provide the essential emotional kick needed to meet a challenge. Coaches need to strike the right balance in order to develop talent.'

Practice Complete the following article with either a definite or indefinite article or no article at all (Ø).

We don't need managers we manage ourselves!

It seems like ¹ a recipe for ² Ø anarchy: At TechTarget, ³ a interactive media company in ⁴ the USA, all 210 employees are free to come and go as they please. There are no set policies on ⁵ Ø working hours or ⁶ Ø sick, personal and vacation days. More productive between ⁷ Ø midnight and 4 am? 'No problem,' says ⁸ a founder and CEO Greg Strakosch.

Strakosch, 40, may sound like ⁹ a leftover from ¹⁰ the feverish, try-anything days of ¹¹ the new economy. But ¹² his financial results tell ¹³ a different story. ¹⁴ The four-year-old company's 'open-leave' policy, Strakosch says, is ¹⁵ the biggest reason why turnover is expected to hit $35 million this year, up nearly 30 per cent from last year. 'It's ¹⁶ a competitive weapon,' he says. That doesn't surprise Shoshana Zuboff, ¹⁷ a professor of ¹⁸ business administration at ¹⁹ Harvard. In ²⁰ the age of intellectual assets, she says, it's absurd to treat workers with ²¹ an industrial-age mindset. 'We should be beyond demanding just ²² a loyalty from workers and we should trust them to be honest about managing their time,' Zuboff says.

5 Study these delegates' questions at the conference. Correct the mistakes with articles. Two questions contain no mistakes.
