1. You look really tired/tiring. Why don't you go to bed?
2. I was very much pleased/pleasing with him indeed; he showed a fine sense and a fine feeling in the whole matter.
3. When such is the purpose of those who paint pictures and such is the understanding of those who buy them, it is not surprised/surprising that not every picture is inevitably a work of art.
4. It's very embarrassed/embarrassing when you forget someone's name.
5. Why are you looking so depressing/depressed? I have just been to the doctor and he had told me that i have to take pills for the rest of my life.
6. "How many sheep do you think are in the field?" a farmer asked his new assistant. "Four hundred and sixty" the assistant replied in seconds. "That's astonished/astonishing. You are perfectly correct." - replied.
7. A gentleman entered the fruit store in London which sold fruits from all corners of the world. He picked some oranges but was shocked/shocking when the shop assistant asked for 10 pounds.
8. I was extremely embarrassing/embarrassed yesterday. I called my brother and asked him why he had hung my underwear outside to dry.
9. That boy over there is annoying/annoyed. He is the most mischevious child in the classroom.
10. My father's trip to the Universal Studios in the United States was extremely disappointed/disappointing. He did not stop murmuring when we picked him up at the airport.
11. Thomson was a bored/boring person who talked for hours about himself.
12. The directions he gave us were really confuse/confusing.

LIVEWORKSHEETS