

Name: _____

Grade and Section: _____

Teacher: RIZZA B. PORRAS

Assessment: Individual Activity: VERTEBRATES

Directions: Choose the letter of the correct answer. Tick the letter of your answer.

- _____ 1. Which of these animals is a mammal?
a. ape                      b. chicken                      c. parrot                      d. ostrich
- _____ 2. Which class of animal has skin with fur or hair, feeds their young with milk and maintains a constant body temperature?
a. mammals                      b. amphibians                      c. fish                      d. reptiles
- _____ 3. Which class of animal has skin with feathers, lays eggs with a hard shell, has a beak and maintains a constant body temperature?
a. mammals                      b. amphibians                      c. birds                      d. reptiles
- _____ 4. To which group do chicken and ducks belong?
a. fish                      b. reptiles                      c. birds                      d. amphibians
- _____ 5. I lay eggs, and reside in or around water. My body is moist and soft. What am I?
a. mammals                      b. amphibians                      c. fish                      d. reptiles
- _____ 6. This group of animal is found only in water, has a changing body temperature, skin with scales, breathes through gills and lays eggs without a shell.
a. mammals                      b. amphibians                      c. fish                      d. reptiles
- _____ 7. Which of the following vertebrates are warm blooded?
a. fish and reptiles'                      c birds and mammals
b. amphibians and reptiles                      d. amphibians and mammals
- _____ 8. Which statement best describes the characteristics of fishes?
a. They live on land and in water.
b. They live in water and they have scales, fins and gills.
c. Their bodies are covered with dry scales and they crawl.
d. Their bodies have feathers and wings to keep them warm.
- _____ 9. Why do whales belong to the mammalian group?
a. Whales have moist skin for breathing.
b. Whales have lungs and mammary glands.
c. Whales have feathers and wings for flying.
d. Whales have gills and fins for swimming.
- _____ 10. Snakes, turtles and lizards belong to reptiles because they have dry scales and they lay eggs from which their offspring are hatched. Does a dog belong to this group?
a. Yes, Dogs belong to this group?
b. No, because it has hair or fur all over his body.
c. Yes, because it has dry scales, it laid eggs and crawl.
d. Yes, because it breathes through their lungs and crawl.