Part 2

Read the text about each of the people talking about doing homework and then choose the correct answer to the questions.

Toby, 13

I don't mind doing my homework, especially if I can listen to jazz rather than pop music on my phone. When I do, I'm able to think more clearly about what I'm doing. I really enjoy doing my homework, especially math, and I am very good at it. Or when one of my classmates comes to my house to study with me. It's best to let my parents and sister know I will be busy, so they don't come into my room and spend the entire evening talking to me.

Dylan, 14

I usually finish most of my homework before going to bed. And then I do a little more when I wake up. I'll probably spend five minutes before breakfast reviewing my Spanish vocabulary. I've always found it easy to do that. If you want to do your homework well, make sure your room is nice and bright, as you'll fall asleep if you don't!

Sam, 14

It wasn't a big success when I started doing my homework in my room every evening. I was always looking for something more exciting to do! But I don't have the same problem these days. I simply go to my room in the evening, turn on the light, and settle down at my desk to work. I enjoy music, but I find myself thinking about the song rather than my homework when I listen to it! So I don't listen to music while I study. Before I begin, I turn my phone off or put it away because it can distract me too.

Rebecca Stevens was the first woman to climb Mount Everest. Before she went up the highest mountain in the world, she was a journalist and lived in a small flat in south London.

In 1993, Rebecca left her job and her family and travelled to Asia with some other climbers. She found that life on Everest is hard. 'You must carry everything on your back,' she explained, 'so you can only take things that you will need. You can't wash on the mountain, and in the end, I didn't even take a toothbrush. I'm usually a clean person, but there is no water, only snow. Water is very heavy, so you only take enough to drink!'

When Rebecca reached the top of Mount Everest on May 17 1993, it was the best moment of her life. Suddenly, she became famous.

Now she has written a book about the trip and people often ask her to talk about it. She has a new job too, for a science programme on television.
