

Infinitives and Gerunds: Change the Sentences to Negative

Part A: Change the verb to negative

1. They intend to come to Canada this year.
→ They _____ to come to Canada this year.
2. We finished doing our homework before dinner.
→ We _____ doing our homework before dinner.
3. I expect you to get a perfect score on the test.
→ I _____ you to get a perfect score on the test.
4. He learned to cook when he was a child.
→ He _____ to cook when he was a child.
5. My son enjoys reading books.
→ My son _____ reading books.

Part B: Change the gerund to negative

6. I want to apologize for calling you yesterday.
→ I want to apologize for _____ you yesterday.
7. Stopping at a stop sign is against the law.
→ _____ at a stop sign is against the law.
8. I hate knowing where you are!
→ I hate _____ where you are!
9. I recommend looking at your phone during dinner.
→ I recommend _____ at your phone during dinner.
10. The girl got in trouble for paying attention to the teacher.
→ The girl got in trouble for _____ attention to the teacher.

Part C: Change the infinitive to negative

11. Please try to interrupt people when they are talking.
→ Please try _____ people when they are talking.
12. She asked the neighbours to make noise after 9 PM.
→ She asked the neighbours _____ noise after 9 PM.
13. I would prefer to drive when the roads are slippery.
→ I would prefer _____ when the roads are slippery.
14. My resolution is to bite my fingernails.
→ My resolution is _____ my fingernails.
15. The students were so happy to have homework on Friday!
→ The students were so happy _____ homework on Friday!