Little Red Riding Hood was picking a flower for her grandmother, when suddenly a wolf approached her and tried to be friendly to her

The wolf swallowed the grandmother so that he can replace her and fool Little Red Riding Hood

The girl's grandmother made her a beautiful red cloak with a big red hood, which she wore every time she went outside

Little Red Riding Hood took a basket full of food for her sick grandmother to her cottage

The bad wolf sneaked into the grandma's house and opened the door quietly

A woodsman happened to be walking the forest when he heard Little Red Riding Hood screaming from the grandma's house

Little Red Riding Hood tried to run from the bad wolf but it was too late. The bad wolf swallowed her in just one gulp.

Little Red Riding Hood noticed some differences on her grandma's eyes, ear and teeth and realized that the wolf pretended to be her grandmother

The woodsman, Little Red Riding Hood and her grandmother chased the wolf out of the cottage

The woodsman grabbed the big bad wolf feet, turned him upside down and shook his body. The Little Red Riding Hood and her grandmother came tumbling out of the wolf's mouth
