

Reading Part 2

- The same text is used for questions 9-16.
- Read the text and answer the questions.

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

9. Read the text and answer the question:

What is the purpose of the first paragraph?

- A. To introduce two different career options
- B. To discuss people's favourite jobs
- C. To describe the best way to choose a career

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers.

Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

10. Read the text and answer the question:

Alia says that IT is an enjoyable career because she ____.

- A. likes to work with other people
- B. has done the job for a long time
- C. can use her communication skills

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

11. Read the text and answer the question:

What does Alia's job mainly involve?

- A. meeting people
- B. fixing computer issues
- C. managing the company

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

12. Read the text and answer the question:

Alia plans to    one day.

- A. have her own business
- B. take more exams
- C. study computing

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers.

Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

13. Read the text and answer the question:

Salim chose to work with racehorses because he ____.

- A. is too young to become a doctor
- B. preferred working with animals
- C. likes to do challenging jobs

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

14. Read the text and answer the question:

What does Salim like most about his job?

- A. waking up early
- B. his horses winning
- C. exercising the animals

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

15. Read the text and answer the question:

Which is the skill that will help Salim be a successful student?

- A. He works hard.
- B. He likes animals.
- C. He learns things easily.

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers. Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!

16. Read the text and answer the question:

Both jobs require ____.

- A. employees who like working hard
- B. working directly with other people
- C. an interest in working with technology

Choosing a career is difficult as there are so many different types of jobs available. In my opinion, people should choose a job that suits their personality, skills and interests. Carefully considering their likes and dislikes can also help people to decide. Here are two people describing their jobs. Hi, I'm Alia. Are you a person that likes to work in a team and enjoys sharing ideas? Then I think you would like a job in IT. I've been working in this job for three years now and I love it. I'm good at working closely with colleagues and customers.

Together, we spend hours finding solutions to complicated computer problems. IT professionals need to have excellent communication and problem solving skills. My work is very hard. The exams that I took at university when learning about computers were the most difficult ones I've ever taken! In the future, I'd be interested in managing my own IT company. I'm Salim and I've been working as a racehorse trainer since last year. When I was younger, I wanted to be a doctor, but I found that I liked working with animals more than working with people. Being a racehorse trainer is the most challenging job I've done, though. I get up very early each day to feed the horses, then I take them out to exercise. However, it can be very rewarding too. I believe there's no better feeling than when one of my horses wins a race! Next year, I plan to go to university to study to be a vet. I love animals and I'm hardworking. More importantly, I'm good at learning new things so I think it will be easy for me!