THE ANT AND THE GRASSHOPPER

1

Narrator: It's summer. It's hot and sunny. Ant is working hard near his little house. He is gathering food. He is getting ready for the winter.
Ant: Oh, it's so hot... and I'm so tired!
Grasshopper: Hello, Ant! What are you doing?
Ant: Hello, Grasshopper. I'm getting ready for the winter.
Grasshopper: Why are you working? It's very hot today. Stop working! Have a rest!
Ant: No, no, I can't. And what are you doing?

2

Grasshopper: I'm having fun. I'm singing and dancing. Let's sing and dance together.
Ant: Oh, no, I have no time. The winter is long and cold and I'm getting ready for it.
Grasshopper: I don't like winter. I like summer.
Ant: But you must be ready for the winter. Have you got enough food in your house?
Grasshopper: I don't want to think about the winter. It's summer now and I'm happy! Bye-bye, Ant. And don't work so hard!
Ant: Bye-bye, Grasshopper. Good luck.

3

Narrator: It's winter now. Everything is white with snow. Grasshopper is cold and hungry.
Grasshopper: Oh, poor me! I'm so cold...I can't walk...I'm so hungry...Oh, what do I see? That's the Ant's house...
Narrator: Grasshopper knocks at the door.
Ant: Who's there?
Grasshopper: I'm your friend, Grasshopper.
Ant: What do you want?
Grasshopper: Let me in, please. I'm cold and hungry.
Ant: Really? Why aren't you singing and dancing now? Goodbye!

4

Narrator: Ant closes the door. Grasshopper starts crying.
Grasshopper: Please, Ant, please, let me in!
Ant: All right. Come in! Be my guest! My house is warm. There is enough food. But let that be a lesson to you.
Grasshopper: Thank you, thank you very much! You're a good friend. I promise to work hard in summer. I'm ready to work even in winter...
Ant: OK, OK. Sit by the fire. Let's have dinner. And don't forget your promise! Oh, and we can sing a song after dinner!
Grasshopper and Ant: Ha-ha-ha...
