

Read the chart about Direct and Indirect Objects.

Click on the correct option.

Example: Danny showed her dad the game.

Verb + indirect object + direct object.

I sent my grandpa a present.

- ☐ Verb + indirect object + direct object
- ☐ Verb + direct object + indirect object

Dorothy showed the pictures to her best friend.

- ☐ Verb + indirect object + direct object
- ☐ Verb + direct object + indirect object

I sent a card to my cousins.

- ☐ Verb + indirect object + direct object
- ☐ Verb + direct object + indirect object

We gave the teacher our project.

- ☐ Verb + indirect object + direct object
- ☐ Verb + direct object + indirect object

Waitress gave us some seats.

- ☐ Verb + indirect object + direct object
- ☐ Verb + direct object + indirect object

Complete. Use the words in the same order with both structures.

Verb + indirect object + direct object

I want to give / this card / mom.

Can you please bring / me / some water?

Verb + direct object + indirect object

Let's show / our project / the teacher

I am sending / dad / a gift

Rewrite the sentences without to or for.

1) They took some flowers to their grandma.

2) Mom brought a soda for me.

3) Lily gave the balloon to Danna.

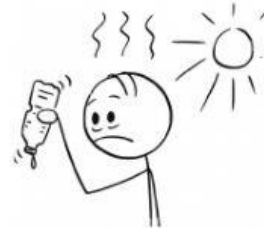

4) He showed the postcards to his friends.

5) We sent a letter to the journalist.

Look at the pictures and create sentences with the given structure.

Verb + indirect object + direct object
(Danny / showed / the picture / his mom)

Verb + direct object + indirect object
(Someone / bring / me / some water.)

Verb + indirect object + direct object
(I / showed / the project / the teacher)

Verb + direct object + indirect object
(I / sent / dad / a gift)

Rewrite the sentences without to or for.

- He showed the photos to his friends.

- They took some roses to their grandparents.

- Nathy gave the balloon to Katty.

- Mom brought a lemonade for me.

- We sent an email to a journalist.
