

UNUSUAL SOUP

The dishes _____ people choose to eat say something about the people _____ eat them and the traditions of the place _____ they live. One of the most unusual and very expensive soups that some people in China make is bird's nest soup. The thing you may notice _____ you taste this dish for the first time is its sweetness. This is a taste of the bird's saliva, _____ the birds use to build their nests. Before you start preparing this unusual dish, you need to get rid of the feathers _____ are attached to the nest. Those people _____ job it is to collect these nests often face many risks because a bird's nest may be difficult to reach.

