Habitats

What do you call the place where plants and animals live? It is called a "habitat". There are many kinds of habitats.

Some live in the desert. Deserts are dry and hot. There is only a little water. Cactuses are the most common plant that can live in deserts.

Forests are wet and damp. The leaves are big and green. Animals can drink a lot of water. Trees can get water for their roots. It is a busy place in the daytime.

Lakes are another place for animals to live. The lakes have water. Mud and weeds are in the lake. Ducks swim in the mud. Worms dig in and out of the mud. Weeds grow tall. It's nearly always windy here.
