

GUESS THE ANIMALS

| | | |
|---|--|--|
| Read the texts and check the pictures to guess what animal they refer to. | Divers sometimes see this unusual creature walking across the ocean floor. It actually hasn't got legs, but it "walks" on its fins. What animal is it? |   Arctic wolf  |
| | This animal has got claws, unusual ears and long whiskers. It's the most endangered feline species in the world. What animal is it? | |
|   Cane toad  | Are you going to Greenland? Maybe you'll see some footprints from this animal's paws in the snow. But you probably won't see the animal, because the fur on its body and tail is white, camouflaging it. What animal is it? |   Iberian lynx  |
| | This critically endangered mammal lives in Africa. It has got a large horn near its nose and a smaller horn behind it. It likes lying in water to protect its skin from insects and the sun. What animal is it? | |
|   Black rhinoceros  | This harmless giant lives in Asia. It's famous for its long trunk and beautiful tusks. It's protected because people (poachers) kill it for its tusks. What animal is it? |   Giant ibis  |
| | This amphibian is now an invasive species in many countries. Originally from Central and South America, it multiplies quickly and it hasn't got many predators, because its skin is poisonous. What animal is it? | |

Stingfish

This exotic animal is the most endangered bird in the world. It lives in Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam. It has got a long beak and brown feathers on its body and wings. What animal is it?

Indian elephant

1 Which part of the body doesn't belong to each animal?

| | |
|----------------|--------------|
| a. Rhinoceros: | f. Wolf: |
| b. Tiger: | g. Elephant: |
| c. Rabbit: | h. Ibis: |
| d. Bird: | i. Toad: |
| e. Lynx: | j. Fish: |

2 Select the correct translation into Spanish for the words in bold.

- a. All snakes aren't harmless.
- b. Birds use their wings to fly.
- c. Poisonous animals can kill you.
- d. An elephant's trunk is attached to its head.
- e. Fish have got fins.
- f. It's against the law to kill protected animals.
- g. A species is a group of animals of plants.
- h. Felines have got whiskers.
- i. The rhinoceros protects its skin from insects and the sun.
- j. The lynx has got sharp claws.
- k. Many animal species are endangered.
- l. You can follow the footprints from animals to find them.
- m. These footprints belong to the paw of a lion.
- n. Most mammals have got bodies covered with fur.
- o. Some mice have got tails longer than their bodies.
- p. You can easily recognize a rhinoceros because of its horn near its nose.
- q. Poachers kill elephants to sell their tusks.
- r. The rabbit is an invasive species that has caused many problems in Australia.
- s. Did you know that some toads are poisonous?

- t. You can find lots of exotic birds in the London Zoo.
- u. Some of those birds have a strong beak.
- v. Sometimes they also have colourful feathers, especially the males.