A homeroom, tutor group, form class, or form is a brief administrative _____ that occurs in a classroom assigned _____ a student in primary school and in secondary school. Within a homeroom period or classroom, administrative documents are _____, attendance is _____, announcements are made, and students are given the _____ to plan for the day. During such periods, teachers and administrators provide personal, social or health _____. Homerooms differ in their nature, depending on the country and the specific school.

In the United States, homeroom is considered a _____ period or registration. It is scheduled often at the _____ period of the day, or it may follow the _____ break. Sometimes it can be at the end of the day after all _____ have finished; some schools have both AM and PM homerooms; in which case the _____ period is the time to _____ to the homeroom class and pack up for the day. In schools where the first period of the day is _____, homeroom may be deferred to the second period. During morning homeroom, teachers take attendance registers, may _____ lunch orders, and carry out other administrative activities. Announcements may be made, correspondence distributed, and the _____ of _____ recited.
