

Here is the story in the right order. Choose the right word for each gap.
Pay attention to whether you need an adjective or an adverb. Write them in.

greedy	politely	carefully	little	relieved
kindly	grumpily	quickly	happily	generously
rich	poor	suddenly	delicious	loyal beautiful	sick

It is Christmas Eve. Ebenezer Scrooge is a _____, _____ businessman. He has a _____ assistant, Bob Cratchit, who helps him in his office.

He is sitting at a desk, _____ checking the list of people who owe him money when two men come in and _____ ask him to donate some money to the poor. He says "no".

His nephew comes in _____ and _____ invites him to Christmas dinner. He says "no" _____.

He closes the office and tells Bob not to be late the day after Christmas. Then he goes home and sits down for dinner.

When he is sitting at home, he _____ sees the ghost of Bob Marley, his dead business partner.

His hands and feet are in chains because he was selfish and greedy in his life. He didn't treat people _____.

Marley warns Scrooge not to make the same mistake that he did. He also tells him that three other ghosts will visit him.

The first ghost takes Scrooge to the past, when he was a _____ boy and when he met and danced with his _____ wife.

The second ghost takes Scrooge to see the present. He realizes that he is still loved and that his assistant's son is ill and dying.

The last ghost takes Scrooge to see his own funeral. He is shocked to see so many people happy and _____ about his death.

Scrooge decides to change. He gets dressed _____ and goes out to see people on Christmas Day.

First, he sends a big _____ turkey to his _____ assistant's home. Then he gives money to the poor and goes to his nephew's house to dinner.

He helps Bob's _____ son and makes sure he gets better.