Listening Strategy

Some words and phrases can help you to predict what is coming next in a listening. For example, if you hear however, you know that it will be followed by a contrasting point. Listen out for 'signposts' like these that help you understand the structure of the listening.

2 Read the Listening Strategy. Then choose the correct words and phrases to complete the sentences.

- Being a surfing instructor sounds great, but as I see it / not only that, it's quite repetitive.
- Stunt performers have to do a lot of dangerous things, moreover / such as falling off buildings.
- Photographers often travel around a lot, although / for example some of them work in a studio.
- Gardeners are not well paid, but as a result / in spite of this, many of them love their job.
- Estate agents do badly during recessions, and nevertheless / that's because fewer people buy houses.
- Being a builder is hard work. However / What is more, you're often on your feet all day.

3 Read the sentences and choose the correct ending, a or b.

- Being a sports coach isn't well paid. On the other hand,
  - it can be quite repetitive.
  - it can be very rewarding.
- Farm workers have a physically demanding job. In other words,
  - it's often very tiring.
  - it's often quite varied.
- My uncle wanted to be an engineer. However,
  - he worked hard and got the qualifications.
  - he couldn't afford to get the qualifications.
- My aunt paid for her degree by getting various part-time jobs; for example,
  - she worked as a cleaner every evening.
  - she studied hard and did well in her exams.
- My grandfather worked as a police officer, a paramedic, a farm worker ... What I mean is,
  - gardener was the job he liked best.
  - he did a variety of different jobs during his life.
