

Complete the sentences with the corresponding words:

as long as

nor whereas provided whether

1. The past was probably not as wonderful as we imagine _____ do things stay the same.
2. _____ they get planning permission; they will build a wall that will block the view of the beach.
3. That too has changed. But _____ you think it has improved, will depend on your personal taste.
4. _____ once it was a desert stretch of white sand, now it is covered in sun beds.
5. _____ it is being run by the current owners; I won't be going back.

Read and answer the questions:

1. The past was probably not as wonderful as we imagine nor do things stay the same.
2. Provided they get planning permission, they will build a wall that will block the view of the beach.
3. That too has changed. But whether or not you think it has improved, will depend on your personal taste.
4. Whereas once it was a desert stretch of white sand, now it is covered in sun beds.
5. As long as it is being run by the current owners, I won't be going back.

We use conjunctions to join ideas in a sentence.
True / False

They may come at the beginning, middle or end of a sentence.
True / False

Read and answer the questions:

1. The past was probably not as wonderful as we imagine nor do things stay the same.
2. Provided they get planning permission, they will build a wall that will block the view of the beach.
3. That too has changed. But whether or not you think it has improved, will depend on your personal taste.
4. Whereas once it was a desert stretch of white sand, now it is covered in sun beds.
5. As long as it is being run by the current owners, I won't be going back.

We use nor to add another negative / positive idea

We use provided, as long as to give a condition / to add an idea, they can be substituted by "if".

We use whether and whereas to agree / to contrast