Answer the next questions as indicated. Analyse these examples to help you.

1. If the child fails, it shows their lack of commitment. (zero)
2. If the child asks for permission to go out, the parents just give in. (zero)
3. If you don't learn this, I will take away your toy. (first)
4. If they keep trying, they will succeed. (first)

Match the type of conditional with their uses.

Describes a fact or something that is generally true		FIRST CONDITIONAL
Describes a particular possible future (very real possibility, it has happened before)		ZERO CONDITIONAL

Select the correct verb tense to complete the structure of the conditionals

ZERO CONDITIONAL

Condition: IF + subject + simple present / future simple + complement

Result: subject + simple present / future simple + complement

FIRST CONDITIONAL

Condition: IF + subject + simple present / future simple + complement

Result: subject + simple present / future simple + complement

LIVEWORKSHEETS