

Read and write the correct names. You need to use two names twice.

Inspector Jackson is talking to four witnesses about a bank robbery. They're at the police station and the witnesses are quite nervous. They've all got an alibi. Let's see what they have to say.

VICKY

I was at the bank from eight o'clock in the morning, but I wasn't there when the robbery happened. It was lunchtime, and I was with my friend Celia. We were in the café in the shopping centre from twenty to twelve until quarter to one. After that, I was at the bank sitting at my desk again until half past five.

STUART

I was late for work at the bank that day, because the bus was late. But I was at the bank at half past eight. Later in the morning, I was at the post office with Mr Harris. He had some very important letters, so we went to the post office to post them. After lunch, I was at the bank again at half past one, and I was there all afternoon.

MR HARRIS

It was a horrible day! In the morning, I was at the airport with my family. Now, they're on holiday in France. The traffic was very bad, so I was late for work at the bank. I was at the bank at about quarter past nine, I think. Later, I was at the post office with Stuart. I was away from the bank from half past eleven until quarter past two.

CHARLIE

I was at the bank at quarter to nine in the morning. When I arrived, Vicky and Stuart were working. Vicky was at her desk, and Stuart was next to the door. The bank wasn't busy and there weren't a lot of people. I was at the bank all day until six o'clock, except from half past one until two o'clock, when I was at the supermarket.

- 1 _____ was at the bank before 8:15.
- 2 _____ was the last person who arrived at the bank.
- 3 _____ and _____ were at the post office in the morning.
- 4 _____ was at the bank all day, except for 30 minutes at lunchtime.
- 5 _____ was next to the door in the morning.