RELATIVE CLAUSES 1 - DEFINING -

A clause is a part of a sentence. A relative clause tells us which person or thing (or what kind of person or thing) the speaker means.

The man who lives next door is very friendly.
Relative Clause

The man who lives next door... (Who lives next door tells us which man)

RELATIVE CLAUSES 2

- > The man who lives in next door is very friendly.
- > Where are the eggs which were in the fridge?

In these sentences who and which are subject of the verbs in the relative clauses.

The man lives in next door. He is very friendly.

Where are the eggs? They were in the fridge

YOU CANNOT LEAVE OUT WHO or WHICH IN THESE SENTENCES

Sometimes who and which are objects of the verbs.

The man - I wanted to see him - was away on holiday.

The man who I wanted to see was away on holiday.

Have you found the keys? - You lost them.

Have you found the keys that you lost?

WHEN WHO or WHICH ARE OBJECTS OF THE VERB IN THE RELATIVE CLAUSE, YOU CAN LEAVE THEM OUT.

- > The man I wanted to see was away on holiday.
- > The dress Ann bought doesn't fit her very well.
- > Is there anything I can do?

PREPOSITIONS IN RELATIVES

Do you know the girl? - Tom is talking to her.

- > Do you know the girl (who) Tom is talking to?
- > The bed - I slept in it last night - wasn't very comfortable.
- > The bed I slept in last night wasn't very comfortable.

WHO (THAT) for PEOPLE

- > We know a lot of people. They live in London.
- > We know a lot of people who live in London.

WHICH / THAT for THINGS

- > I don't like stories. They have unhappy endings.
- > I don't like the stories that have unhappy endings.
- > Where are the eggs? They were in the fridge.
- > Where are the eggs which were in the fridge?

WHOSE for HIS /HER /THEIR

- > We saw some people - their car had broken down.
- > We saw some people whose car had broken down.

WHERE for PLACES

The hotel - we stayed there - wasn't very clean.
The hotel where we stayed wasn't very clean.

RELATIVE CLAUSES 3 - NON DEFINING -

The woman who lives next door is a doctor.

Have you found the keys that you lost

In these sentences, the relative clauses tell us which person or thing the speaker means.

The house at the end of the street, which has been empty for five years, has just been sold.

Mrs. Morgan, whose son is in our class, is an English teacher.

In these sentences the relative clauses (which has been empty ... and whose son...) do not tell us which person or thing speaker means. We already know which person or thing is meant. The relative clauses in these sentences give us extra information about the person or thing.

In these - non defining- relative clauses you have to use who for people and which for things. You cannot use that and you cannot leave out who or which. When you write clauses like this you have to put commas (,) at the beginning and the end of the clause.

Mr. Jason, who has worked for the company for 20 years, is retiring next week
