Lesson 21 /Homophones

Homophones are words that sound the same but mean different things.
We spell many homophones the same way. But some homophones we spell differently.

1 Listen and read.

there , their, they're	They're confused about "there", "their", and "they're", but their cat doesn't care.
here, hair, hear	I was fixing my hair and didn't hear you come in. I spend a lot of time on my hair here.
for, four	I need to go shopping for food, but I'll be back in about four hours.
poor, pour	The poor waiter spilled the drinks and had to pour more.
see, sea	I can't wait to see the sea on my next vacation, the sound of the waves is so calming.
by, buy, bye	I need to buy some food by five, so I have to say bye for now and go to the store.
I, eye	I see with my little eye
