

Linking Words

Errors involving linking expressions 1

Each of the following sentences contains an error related to the underlined expression. Write the correct constructions. In some cases, the error may involve punctuation use.

1. Read the instructions carefully. On the contrary, you might take an excessive dose.
2. As well as we do for other illnesses, we expect to have a cure for depression.
3. Universities have contracts not only with cola companies but also paper suppliers.
4. Young people tend to know a lot about the internet while on the contrary older people are more interested in history.
5. In the case that the climate becomes much warmer, we will be in serious trouble.
6. It doesn't matter your opinion, drugs are completely illegal.
7. Europeans do not see the benefits of genetic modification but its drawbacks.
8. Needless to say that the positions of these two groups are radically opposed.
9. Chocolate acts as an anti-depressant. On the other hand, it has aphrodisiac properties.
.....
10. Online lessons are similar to online class plans, but whereas the first are aimed at students, the second are directed at teachers.
11. Leafy vegetables, for example spinach and lettuce, provide important nutrients.
12. Until they are not caught, students will continue to plagiarize.
13. Even though another person has the same genome as you do, you will not be the same.
.....