

INPUT DEVICES

MATCH ME!!!!

Name:

Class:

Computer Mouse

Used to capture films and images. The images can be edited, deleted and stored in the computer system

Keyboard

Used to scan any solid objects and produces a three-dimensional items. It has 3 coordinates of X, Y and Z

Digital Camera

Used as a pointing device. It uses tiny cursors move around the screen to initiate commands like clicking, double clicking and dragging.

3D Scanner

Used to accept sound or vibrations by converting into digital signal with the help of a special chip called Analog Digital Converter.

Micro phone

It is a common method of entering data like letters and numbers with 100s of buttons to be pressed to generate inputs.

Remote Sensor

It is scanning the line coded characters or numbers represented on stickers or attached at the supermarket's packaging.

Touch Screen

It is scanning the matrix squared coded characters or numbers represented on posters as an advertising or promotional purposes.

Bar Code
Scanner

Detecting inputs of physical properties from their surroundings, the inputs are in analog form and needs to be converted to digital.

It allows simple touch selection using a stylus pen or bare fingers (gloved). It carries out function like tapping, pinching, and dragging. Most famous devices used in smartphones.