

Name: _____

Date: _____

MOUNTAINS

	1. The elevation above 26,000 ft. is called the "____" zone.
	2. The lowest point of a mountain.
	3. The highest peak in the whole world.
	4. Some mountains are completely under the _____ .
	5. It is a type of landform which is characterized by high elevation.
	6. The highest or the top part of a mountain.
	7. The tallest mountain in the world.
	8. This tallest mountain in the world is found in which country?
	9. Mount Everest is found in which country?
	10. Experts measure from sea level to summit to find out how ____ a mountain is.
	11. A long narrow top of a mountain or series of mountains.
	12. It is called the side of a mountain.
	13. Experts measure the base to the summit to find out how _____ a mountain is.
	14. The lowest peak in the world is found in which country?
	15. The name of the lowest peak in the world.
	16. There is less _____ from the top of a mountain.
	17. Mount Everest is _____ meters tall.
	18. Mountains are formed when rocks are ____ .
	19. Around ____ percent of the Earth's surface is covered with mountains.
	20. The scientific study of mountains.