

How do you pronounce
this word?

front-end

How do you pronounce
this word?

front-end

/frʌnt end/

Linking: CONSONANT + VOWEL

When a word ends in a consonant and the next word begins with a vowel, connect the final consonant to the next vowel, making it sound as if the second word starts with a consonant.

Study the examples below to make this point clear.

	sounds like:
1. hold on	"whole Don"
2. I like it	"I lie kit"
3. deep end	"depend"
4. get up late	"get a plate"
5. picked out	"pick doubt"
6. this guy	"the sky"

Using the flap t sound to link words

When the first word ends with a vowel/r-controlled vowel + t and the next word begins with a vowel, we connect these words using the flap t sound.

The same sound is used when the first word ends with a vowel/r-controlled vowel + d and the next word begins with a vowel. The fast d sound that we have there sounds exactly the same as the flap t sound – it is the same sound.

This concept is explained and practiced in this video.

Here are some word combinations to practice linking with the flap t sound.

Word groups for practice

- | | | | |
|-------------------|----------------------|-------------------------|-----------------------|
| 1. it i s | 3. try it o n | 5. at e leven | 7. what i f |
| 2. get u p | 4. eat o t | 6. wait a minute | 8. put i t off |

Word pairs

- | | | | |
|-------------------|---------------------|--------------------|-------------------|
| 1. add o n | 2. made e it | 3. hid i it | 4. fed u p |
|-------------------|---------------------|--------------------|-------------------|
-

Let's put it all together...

Practice sentences

Let's practice linking a final consonant of a word with the initial vowel of the following word using some everyday phrases used in sentences.

1. Good d evening.

2. Hold on.

3. good d idea

4. I like k it.

5. speak k English

6. cup p of coffee

7. Just a minute.

8. where r are

9. there r are

10. kind d of

u + t + i:

Have a good evening.

Please hold on a minute.

u + t + aɪ

That's a really good idea.

ɪ + t + ə

I like it a lot.

Do you speak ɪnglish?

I'd like a kup of coffee.

I'll be there in just a minute.

Where r are you from?

ɑ: + t + əv

There r are a lot of people here.

I'm kind of hungry.