Picture 1

People are watching a ..... movie with Buster Keaton, a great ..... actor. Can you see a ..... and a violin ? In the 1920s, films were and silent were often accompanied by live .....

Picture 2

In the 1950s, not many people had a ..... , so drive-in cinemas were very ..... in America. You could buy a ..... for a ..... space and sit comfortably in your ..... to watch a movie.
Guess how people could hear the soundtrack of the film?
Sometimes there were loud speakers next to the ..... spaces. In other places, the cinema had access to a ..... station, so you could turn on your .... , tune it to the right ..... and you could ..... to the movie.

Picture 3

Buying ....., ... and ..... at the movies is all part of the American experience nowadays. In America, popcorn is often flavoured.
In your opinion, what is America's favourite ..... flavour? ..... ? ..... ? ..... ? ..... ? Or ..... ?
America's favourite popcorn flavour is ..... and the second favourite ..... is .....