future arrangements

Lorna and Jamie are getting married in October.
We're meeting at 10.00 tomorrow in Richard's office.
Jane's leaving on Friday and coming back next Tuesday.

- We often use the present continuous for future arrangements.
- There is very little difference between the present continuous and be going to for future plans / arrangements and often you can use either.
 - be going to shows that you have made a decision.
We're going to get married next year.
 - the present continuous emphasizes that you have made the arrangements.
We're getting married on October 12th. (= we've booked the church)
- We often use the present continuous with verbs relating to travel arrangements, e.g. go, come, arrive, leave, etc.

- We can also use will / won't for predictions, e.g. I think Barcelona will win, and to talk about future facts, e.g. The election will be on 1st March.
